Idaho Artistry in Wood Show

March 16-17, 2019

Mark your calendars and start those carvings

Our club project for the month January which will be introduced at January's meeting on January 10 will a spoon with using a very old process for decoration. Everyone will receive a an appropriate piece of bass wood to make the spoon and provide space for decoration. I hope this intrigues you. Look forward to seeing this Thursday evening.

The annual Idaho Artistry in Wood Show, is coming sooner than you think, March 9-10, 2019, just two short months away. So, I hope you are working on your entries. Because our March meeting will be just one day before the show, it has been decided that at least a portion of the March meeting will be dedicated to receiving entries for the IAWS, and if you wish we will also transport them to the Show for you. Such a deal, I believe, you will not want to miss.

Jim Jameson and Larry Crist will be traveling to Lincoln City, OR for their Woodcarving Show, January 19-20. They would like to take some carvings with them, for show and tell, etc.. If you would be willing to have your carving (s) travel to Lincoln City, please bring your carvings to the meeting on January 10.

Our Christmas Party proved that it does not matter where you meet, if friends get together there will be a good time. Do to some last minute difficulties we moved the party to Woodcraft. So a great big thank you to them (Woodcraft) for all the very last minute set-up and to Jane E. for persevering through it all.
